KEYNOTE #1: THEMES – MINDSET + CREATIVITY ROHIT'S SIGNATURE TALK!

How To Be A Non-Obvious Thinker (And See What Others Miss)

Break free of conventional thinking and be more creative. What is the secret to being more innovative every day? For the past decade, Rohit Bhargava has advised some of the most pioneering organizations in the world from NASA to Disney on how to see what others miss. This keynote will reveal his signature four-step method to having better ideas. The future in an AI world belongs to Non-Obvious Thinkers and this is your guide to becoming one.

KEYNOTE #2: FUTURISM, TRENDS AND DISRUPTION MOST POPULAR FOR 2026 EVENTS!

5 Non-Obvious Trends Shaping The Future Normal

Anticipate the future and learn to leverage world changing trends. What are the non-obvious trends shaping the future? In this candid and fast-paced session based on the bestselling book that has inspired more than 1 million readers, trend curator Rohit Bhargava will spotlight 5 world-changing trends that matter. This is a pull-no-punches, always entertaining, constantly surprising, highly actionable (and deeply non-obvious!) glimpse into what the future will look like ... and what you can do to win.

KEYNOTE #3: MARKETING, SALES & STORYTELLING

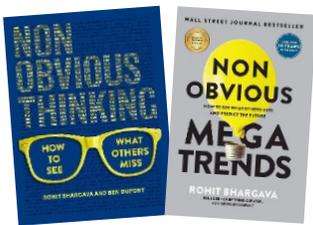

The Art and Science of Non-Obvious Marketing (In A Skeptical World)

Be more believable, build trust and stand out from the competition. We are living through a modern believability crisis. To win in a skeptical world, you need to be more human. This funny and insightful keynote from award-winning marketing expert Rohit Bhargava will reveal the five secrets for earning attention in a world filled with distractions. Through a digestible collection of purposeful stories, Rohit will shine a spotlight on what actually works to command attention, build loyalty and generate real results.

KEYNOTE #4: ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE, TRUST & LEADERSHIP NEW 2026 DISRUPTION TALK!

What is it like to work with me?

The truth about keynote speakers is that most of them have big egos. To some degree, it's what we get paid for. But too often that translates into becoming a difficult person to work with. My speaking style is authentic and down-to-earth. I have been described as warm, genuine and approachable. That starts with how I work with event professionals. I take time to prepare and understand a client's business and prepare deeply with pre-reads and research. I stick around to meet people instead of rushing to catch a flight. I try to create more value for an event beyond the stage. Most of all, when I'm there, I'm focused, present, kind, unassuming and generally try to be as "low-maintenance" as possible. My goal at every event is to be the most engaged speaker you've ever had.

ABOUT ROHIT – THE “GIVE ME THE WHOLE STORY” FULL BIO

(YOU ASKED FOR IT! TOO SMALL TO READ? GO TO WWW.ROHITBHARGAVA.COM/SPEAKING TO READ THIS ONLINE)

Rohit Bhargava is an innovation and marketing expert, facilitator, and entertaining keynote speaker. After graduating with an English major and studying screenwriting and poetry at Emory University in Atlanta (where he began his lifelong love of the Olympics in 1996), Rohit moved to Australia in 1999 at the start of the dot com boom and began what would become a successful 15 year career as a brand and marketing strategist in the world of advertising and marketing (a perfect place to translate his love of writing into business).

While working at two of the largest agencies in the world (first Leo Burnett in Sydney and then Ogilvy in Washington DC), Rohit built his career during a pivotal time in business when digital tools were just emerging, social media was new and a growing understanding of behavioral science was changing the way marketing was practiced. In 2004, Rohit became an early adopter of social media and started writing a marketing blog that was quickly named one of the top 25 blogs in the industry, according to Ad Age magazine.

Across the past 25 years, publishing thousands of articles and insights, he has continually introduced new groundbreaking ideas to the marketing world—from first inventing the concept of social media optimization (SMO) to publishing a manifesto for content curators that is now widely used in digital marketing classrooms at Universities across the world. Once, he even sat in a meeting where a newly minted “senior digital strategist” explained the concept of SMO back to the room. As Rohit wrote the day after, “I should probably be honored. Having my own ideas quoted back to me a kind of flattery, right? At least now I know what being mansplained to feels like.”

The growing popularity of his blog earned Rohit his first book deal in 2008, a traditional publishing offer from McGraw-Hill to write Personality Not Included. The book was not a huge commercial success but was critically acclaimed and won a prestigious Gold Atticus award. It was also adopted and used by many senior business leaders trying to make their organizations more authentic (one keen reader spotted the book in a Businessweek magazine article photo on the desk behind former Yahoo CEO Marissa Mayer!).

His next three books were increasingly successful (the second with another large traditional publisher and his third and fourth being self published). After these experiences and thanks to his growing popularity as a keynote speaker, Rohit left his role at Ogilvy in 2014 and along with his wife Chhavi founded a new independent publishing company called Ideapress Publishing to publish his fifth book, Non-Obvious—which became an immediate Wall Street Journal bestseller. The book evolved from his popular annual Non-Obvious Trend Report that he started back in 2011 which had been viewed or shared over a million times annually and would eventually become a decade-long series of books and trend insights.

The series culminated in 2020 with the international bestseller Non-Obvious Megatrends, which hit #1 on the Wall Street Journal bestseller list and the USA Today bestseller list. To date, the entire series has been read or shared by millions of readers and won more than 35 international book awards including recognition by the prestigious Leonard L. Berry Marketing Book Award, the Eric Hoffer Business Book of the Year, a Gold Medal in the Axiom Awards and the Pencraft as the Book of the Year.

After wrapping up his signature trend series, during the pandemic Rohit continued his trend research while also pivoting to delivering virtual keynotes, launching a popular weekly interview show and co-hosted an ambitious virtual summit that brought together more than 200 speakers to talk about how to build a more diverse and inclusive world. That effort inspired a new collaboration with well-known DEI expert Jennifer Brown to co-author a book called Beyond Diversity in 2022 which also hit the WSJ bestseller list.

Turning back to his popular trend research, Rohit started a multi-year (and ongoing!) collaboration with British futurist Henry Coutinho-Mason to interview and research some of the most groundbreaking work from scientists and entrepreneurs imagining a better future. These conversations and insights all came together in a book which he published with Henry after three years of research in 2023 (with an updated paperback edition just launched in 2025) called The Future Normal. The book featured 30 trends and cultural shifts shaping our world in the next decade and was a Grand Prize Finalist in the Hoffer Book Awards.

His newest book is a collaboration with pioneering venture capitalist Ben duPont. Their new book Non-Obvious Thinking offers a proven method for how anyone can have better ideas and learn to see what others miss and has already won several business book awards.

Outside his writing and research, bringing the insights from his books to live and virtual events a keynote speaker, Rohit has been invited to deliver his signature “non-boring” keynote talk at some of the most forward-looking organizations and stages in the world including Intel, NASA, Disney, JP Morgan Chase, L’Oreal, LinkedIn, Microsoft, American Express, CES, SXSW, the World Bank, Coca-Cola, NBC, Pfizer, AARP and hundreds of others in 32 countries around the world. Along the way, he has inspired diverse audiences ranging from social workers to AC repair professionals, family foundations to beauty industry executives. Rohit’s gift is making his talks relatable to any audience on a human level.

At SXSW in particular, the long lines outside his popular Featured Session talks every year for six years running have wrapped around the entire Austin Convention Center (before it was sadly demolished this year to make way for a new building!) and down the stairs to the lower level. After his packed session one year, an attendee tweeted after his talk that “he’s no Beyonce, but definitely worth standing in line for.” It’s one of Rohit’s favorite after-talk endorsements. He is indeed no Beyonce, but his sessions are still pretty darn entertaining.

Outside of his time on stage, Rohit also spent more than a decade years teaching popular oversubscribed courses on storytelling, persuasive speaking and marketing at Georgetown University in Washington DC. In academia, he has also been invited to deliver guest lectures at many other prestigious schools including Stanford, Wharton and was even honored as the featured alumni speaker to help launch a new Innovation Center at his alma mater - the Goizueta Business School at Emory University in Atlanta.

The most consistent connection for his fans and followers has continually been his popular Non-Obvious Insights email newsletter that he has written regularly every Thursday for the past ten years. Recently, the Non-Obvious Insights Newsletter was honored by the Webby Awards (the Internet’s highest honor) as the Best Email Newsletter, alongside winning newsletters from the New York Times and CNN. Rohit also began hosting The Non-Obvious Show podcast which is now in its sixth season and quickly becoming just as popular as his newsletter and has already featured interviews with many iconic business thinkers including Dan Pink, Beth Comstock and Guy Kawasaki. Over the past year, his “non-obvious” videos have also gone viral online on Instagram and TikTok with more than 3 million views and counting ... so yes, he supposes you can call him an influencer now, though he’s still waiting for those gratuitous invites to stay at five star luxury resorts for free. Maybe 2026 will be the year it happens ...

Thanks to his years of sharing insights, Rohit has been recognized alongside visionary business leaders like Sir Richard Branson and Tom Peters as a “Top 100 Thought Leader In Trustworthy Business Behavior” and was named by global recruiting firm Korn Ferry as one of the “Most Influential South Asians In Media and Entertainment.”

On a personal level, Rohit is married and lives with his wife and two boys in the Washington DC area. He is a lifelong fan of anything having to do with the Olympics (he’s been to six so far with plans to be at LA 2028!) and actively hates cauliflower (yuck!). Outside of work, Rohit believes that the most entertaining and impactful job he will ever have is being a great dad and teaching his two boys to be kind when no one expects it, curious about the things others take for granted, and confident enough to change the world.

KEYNOTE THEMES – FUTURISM, TRENDS & INNOVATION

*Inspired by Non-Obvious Mega Trends
+ The Future Normal (New!)*

Short Description:

7 Non-Obvious Trends Shaping the Future Normal

1-line Overview → Lead the Future and Anticipate Trends

What are the world-changing trends that will actually shape the future? From biophilic skyscrapers to generative AI to haptic interfaces, this keynote will offer a clear-eyed overview of not only the technology changing our world, but also explore the deeply human questions all this advancement will raise. Along the way, attendees will get a behind the scenes look at the groundbreaking forecasting methods used by the Non-Obvious team and anyone can use these same skills to anticipate the future. This is not a boring academic talk or “futurist theater.” Instead, it's a highly actionable (and deeply non-obvious!) glimpse into how you can anticipate and win the future.

Full Description with Outcomes:

7 Non-Obvious Trends Shaping the Future Normal

What does it take to identify world changing trends that will actually last? For the past decade, Rohit Bhargava has been on the front lines of the future—going into cutting-edge labs, private testing facilities, and invite-only showcases around the world. After completing a world tour and book launch, this exclusive talk will reveal the most powerful stories and instigators that are already shaping humanity's next decade. From biophilic skyscrapers to generative AI to haptic interfaces, this keynote will offer a clear-eyed overview of not only the technology changing our world, but also explore the deeply human questions all this advancement will raise. Rather than offering “futurist theater” with obvious forgettable examples, this talk is consistently updated with new stories (sometimes pulled from that morning's news!), a charismatic delivery style, and interactive exercises to deliver a memorable experience for any size audience. This is not a boring academic talk. Instead, it's a pull-no-punches, always entertaining, constantly surprising, highly actionable (and deeply non-obvious!) glimpse into what the future will look like ... and how each of us can train ourselves to anticipate big shifts before they happen.

This talk will help leaders and teams:

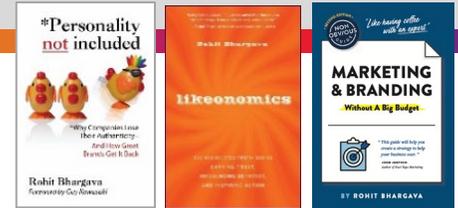

- Create a strategy to take their organization into the future and navigate significant change or disruption either through industry shifts, restructures, pandemic effects and/or new leadership.
- Gain exposure to cutting edge ideas and technologies (as well as the innovators behind them) that can help inform new initiatives and products.

The audience will leave with:

- A greater understanding of the fundamental forces of disruption that are shifting consumer behavior and beliefs across industries and what this means for them.
- A roadmap of relevant innovations and advances that can help to shape strategic planning and current efforts around building products and services for existing and future potential customers.

Short Description:

The Art and Science of Non-Obvious Marketing (In a Skeptical World)

1-line Overview → Be more believable, persuasive and trustworthy in a skeptical world.

We are living in a time when it is harder to earn trust than ever before. People skip ads, mistrust brands and demand transparency from the companies they buy from or work for. What does it take for any organization to be more believable? In this entertaining and eye-opening talk, renowned marketing expert and bestselling author Rohit Bhargava will reveal the five “non-obvious” secrets of building trust and what it really takes to stand out as real, human, authentic and trustworthy in a skeptical world.

Full Description with Outcomes:

The Art and Science of Non-Obvious Marketing (In a Skeptical World)

We are living in a time when it is harder to earn trust than ever before. People skip ads, mistrust brands and demand transparency from the companies they buy from or work for. What does it take for any organization to be more believable? To win in a low-trust world, you need to be more human. This funny and insightful keynote from award-winning marketing expert Rohit Bhargava will reveal the five keys to earning attention in a world filled with distractions. Whether you are looking to shift perceptions, improve sales or simply inject more breakthrough thinking in your current efforts, this talk will help. Through a digestible collection of entertaining case studies and unusual observations, Rohit will shine a spotlight on what actually works to command attention, build loyalty and generate real results. Most importantly, the audience will leave with some real practical advice they can use immediately to put the power of non-obvious thinking to work every day.

This program will help leaders and teams:

- Align a team across departments with a shared understanding of branding, positioning, marketing, storytelling and what part everyone plays in shaping the organization’s perception in the marketplace.
- Articulate why storytelling matters and make the task of storytelling more approachable and realistic for everyone to engage with in their daily roles.
- Build a culture of trust within the organization and improve employee retention by inspiring a team to have more belief in the work they do and the leaders who lead them.

The audience will leave with:

- Understanding the key principles of storytelling and how to apply them in a business context to improve communications and be more persuasive.
- Insights on how trust is earned and lost in the middle of our modern “believability crisis” and techniques anyone can use to be more trustworthy and believable.
- A leadership model for establishing more authenticity and trust among teams that can be replicated at all levels of the organization.

7 Non-Obvious Secrets To Thrive In An AI-Disrupted World

This is an optimistic talk about AI. As Artificial Intelligence fundamentally resets daily work and life, it raises some big questions about how any of us can be successful. People are anxious about job security, leaders are under pressure to find the right ways to deploy AI and all of us are faced with the challenge of using AI without overusing AI. How do we find the right balance between disruption and daily life? Based on a decade of research into trends and innovation, this highly optimistic talk will reveal how each of us can survive and thrive by using AI the right way. From unexpected tips for using AI to lessons on when to avoid it, this clear-eyed talk will remind you why in times of disruption, the people who understand people always win.

This program will help leaders and teams:

- Understand how the forces of AI are disrupting business practices and what can make this a good (or bad) thing depending on how those disruptions are rolled out.
- Forecast the future of disruption in their industry driven by AI and other technologies so that they can develop a clearer picture of how to prepare for this disruption and how to leverage it

The audience will leave with:

- Seven specific lessons and actionable tips for how shift the way they work and how they show up to their daily roles in the midst of disruption from AI.
- An optimistic vision of a future where disruption doesn't need to be a bad thing and how it may lead to more business and career opportunities when leveraged in the right way.

How Rohit Adds Value Beyond The Stage ...

As a speaker, Rohit commonly goes above and beyond being great on stage and customizing his talk to be relevant for your audience. His goal is always to partner with your events team and be part of your event in a much deeper and more meaningful way. For example, here are just a few things that Rohit commonly does at events and would be happy to discuss including as part of his appearance at your event as well – often at no additional cost (depending on timing + scope)!

1. Interactive Workshop – MAY INCUR ADDITIONAL FEE OR MAY BE INCLUDED | PRICING VARIABLE

In a customized bonus workshop, Rohit can bring the ideas of his keynote to life in a more interactive way for participants by having them practice the principles of curating ideas and developing new strategy. In a larger group of 100 or more, this session allows a combination of individual work and group sharing to help the ideas stick. For smaller groups or within corporate events, the workshop is tailored to a shared business challenge and participants are encouraged to collaborate. These workshops can range from 30 minutes to about 2 hours, depending on the time available at the event.

2. The Non-Obvious 7 Minute Meetup – NO ADDITIONAL COST | ALWAYS FREE!

This is our MOST POPULAR add on feature and includes Rohit leading an engaging 7 minute bonding experience for attendees often that can lead to stronger deeper connections between attendees and a more memorable event. See the following page for more details about how this 7 minute meetup event works. Note – Giveaway items cost extra.

3. VIP Dinners or Cocktail Events – NO ADDITIONAL COST | ALWAYS FREE!

Staying and getting to know the attendees of a particular event is one of the joys of speaking, and it is rare the Rohit will speak and rush to the airport right afterwards. He is a speaker that delights in meeting audiences, spending time with them, answering questions and just being engaged as a part of the event in any way he can.

4. Book Signings or Custom Printed Editions – NO ADDITIONAL COST | ALWAYS FREE!

Rohit is always happy to stay and sign books for attendees. In some cases, for larger events, he has worked with his publisher to offer a customized edition of the book where an organization's leader can write the foreword and be featured on the cover. Note – While there is no fee for the appearance, the books themselves do incur additional cost.

5. Filmed Sessions + Testimonials – NO ADDITIONAL COST | ALWAYS FREE!

One way to generate value from an event long after it is over is by having great shareable video. Event planners are actively encouraged to bring video producers to film Rohit's talks for no additional fees. In addition, Rohit can record a promo or testimonial for your team or organization to use for your promotional purposes or to help drive attendance for future events. Just ask!

6. Event Promotion + Social Media – NO ADDITIONAL COST | ALWAYS FREE!

Depending on the event, if promotion to drive attendance is required, Rohit is happy to support those efforts. He can also use his considerable social media presence to promote an event as well as engage with audiences online.

7. MC and Hosting – MAY INCUR ADDITIONAL FEE OR MAY BE INCLUDED | PRICING VARIABLE

For events where there is a program of activities, in addition to delivering a keynote presentation, Rohit can also help to be a dynamic and engaging host and MC for the event overall.

The Non-Obvious

7 Minute Meetup Bonus Session

Help Your Attendees Make More Authentic Connections!

How Does It Work?

Events can be a hard place to make real connections and networking events don't always work. After doing hundreds of keynotes and witnessing people hungry for real connections – Rohit created this unique meetup as an add-on to his keynotes. Here's how it works:

1. Schedule a 7 minute timeslot

*Yes, it's only 7 minutes which means its easy to insert into your event during an open slot but works best if it leads into s happy hour!

2. Give attendees a visual artifact

Every attendee gets a pair of signature yellow glasses, which serve as a fun reminder to be open minded and to connect with others.

3. Jumpstart the conversations!

By giving them time, setting their mindset and then encouraging them to connect – the conversation starts.

What Do You Need To Do?

This event is designed as a bonus for events where Rohit is invited to be a speaker. There is no additional cost to incorporate this meetup into your event and for Rohit to host it.

There is an optional fee to cover the giveaways ONLY (such as the yellow signature glasses) and the ideal timing for this meetup is either right before a lunch break or before a happy hour at the end of the day of sessions.

The Non-Obvious

Rapid Fire Q&A Bonus Session

Engage your audience with a fast-paced Q&A after the keynote!

How Does It Work?

After Rohit's keynote from the main stage, this is an accelerated Q&A session with twenty seconds on the clock per question!

1. Create a list of questions

The questions for this session can be scripted ahead of time or submitted by the audience at the event itself. Any topic is fair game!

2. Select a session moderator

This session is typically moderated by someone alongside Rohit who can pose the questions. The moderator can keep the time, or it can be put on the clock for the audience to see.

3. Have the session!

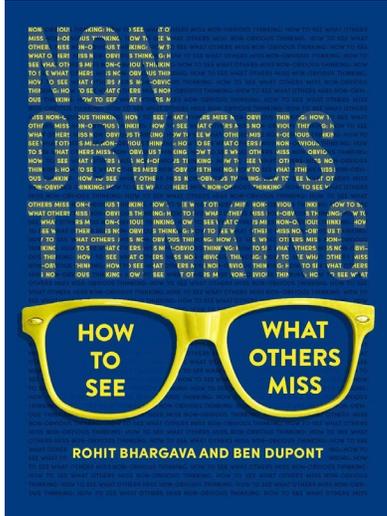

Start the conversation on stage immediately after Rohit's keynote presentation.

Example Questions:

Here are some sample questions that previous events have used with Rohit for this session:

- What's a non-obvious habit that helps you see the world differently every day?
- Has the future ever caught you off guard?
- What did you learn from your first job?
- Do you have a moment when acting quickly completely changed your path?
- What word should we all stop using when talking about the future?
- What trend excites you the most right now?
- What non-obvious lessons have you learned by being a parent?
- What does being responsible for the future mean to you?
- What uncomfortable question should leaders be asking more right now?
- What advice would you give to a young person starting their career right now?
- What's a belief you held in the past that you've changed your mind about—and why?
- What's a tiny moment or decision that had an outsized impact on your life or career?
- What non-obvious skill do you use every day that no one taught you?
- What's a lesson you learned from someone younger than you?
- What's something you've unlearned—and how did that shape your thinking?
- What question do you wish people asked you more often?

“

“The best general session I have ever attended. Enjoyed the specific examples he gave. Far too often speakers pontificate or entertain, but then you really don’t use it afterward. I feel like I’ll actually use things I learned from this session.”

ATTENDEE SURVEY FEEDBACK | ASSOCIATION ANNUAL CONFERENCE

“

“I was fortunate enough to hear Rohit Bhargava speak at the Amazing.com Summit in Las Vegas a few weeks ago. Rohit knocked the ball out of the park! He is an extraordinarily engaging, knowledgeable, and personable storyteller. His message was insightful, easy-to-follow, and professionally delivered. Our audience absolutely fell in love with him!”

MELISSA TOTHERO | DIRECTOR OF LEARNING, AMAZING.COM

“

“Rohit took the time to understand his audience and this was KEY! He also invested time AFTER the session later in the day to thank those who tweeted about his session. And went several steps further by engaging people in conversation who raised points or questions via twitter. Class act!”

ATTENDEE SURVEY FEEDBACK | ASAE MARKETING CONFERENCE

“

“Rohit Bhargava has clearly embraced his own principles because the audience at Brand ManageCamp didn’t just like his session – they loved it (and him). Delivering ‘steal-able ideas’ that they could use right away to apply his concepts to their brands, Rohit went above and beyond in making sure his talk was valuable and memorable. He is that rare mix of scary-smart and super engaging and he is a pleasure to work with. We look forward to our next opportunity to do so.”
